

Year 1 Summer Term Book List

Book	Author	Why have we chosen it?	Values promoted within
Jack and the Beanstalk	(Traditional tale)	A well-loved traditional tale that ties in with our science topic of “plants”. We also recommend reading alternative versions that play with settings and characters, such as “Jack and the Baked Bean Stalk”.	Courage Respect Resilience Trust
Animalium, and Botanicum	Kathy Willis and Jenny Broom	Two beautiful non-fiction books, laid out as if in a museum. Children can learn vast amounts about our science topics of “plants” and “animals”, but will also enjoy the amazing artwork.	Respect Learning Responsibility
The Lost Words	Robert MacFarlane	A non-fiction book with beautiful artwork. It teaches words that may otherwise be forgotten in today’s world, such as “kingfisher” and “bluebell”. This book builds upon our work in CC where we will be looking at living things in our school environment.	Respect Learning Responsibility
Six Storey House	Geraldine McCaughrean	A funny first chapter book with themes that relate to local community, colours and music. Encourages us to appreciate other people around us.	Respect Collaboration Participation Friendship Well-being Motivation Equality Kindness
The Enchanted Wood	Enid Blyton	A classic chapter book that revolves around nature and imagination. Powerful themes of friendships and resilience.	Friendship Respect Honesty Courage

Flat Stanley	Jeff Brown	An amusing chapter book that may appeal to boys who might be otherwise reluctant to read.	Resilience Collaboration Friendship Courage Kindness Well-being
Snow White and the Seven Aliens	Laurence Anholt	An amusing chapter book from the series 'Seriously Silly Stories' where traditional fairy tales are given an entertaining twist.	Friendship Collaboration Trust Respect Resilience
The Owl and the Pussycat	Ian Beck	A classic nonsense poem to show children that poetry is fun. Readers can make up their own definitions for made-up words and enjoy Beck's fantasy world.	Friendship Collaboration Respect Kindness
A Child of Books	Oliver Jeffers	A modern picturebook to feed children's love of reading as they continue into Year 2 and beyond. It helps us to reflect on what reading means to us and why it is important.	Learning Independence Respect Happiness
